U. T. OFFICIALS INSPECT BRYAN

Dean Hamer and Dr. Thomason Visit on March 14

That the Tennessee Valley Authority has already made progress in its war on illiteracy in the Valley was shown by Dr. Thomason, registrar of the University of Tennessee, in a talk made here on Wednesday, March 14. He showed from facts compiled at U. T. that students are remaining in school longer than they did, even as near as five years ago.

In his school, only 25% of the students are freshmen; they were 40% of the total attendance in 1929. Today 17% are in the Senior Class, compared to 12% five years ago. The greatest barometer, however, of the rising trend to finish one's education is in the graduate school of the University. This is 8% of the present enrollment, contrasted to 2% five years ago.

Dr. Thomason accredited this movement to the requirements of the TVA, as well as other organizations, that their personnel have a college degree. The fewer positions available during the depression also is a factor, he stated.

"One thing that a college education can do for you is to get things in their right proportion," emphasized Dr. Thomason.

Dean Hamer and Dr. Thomason inspected dormitories, laboratories, offices, and sat in on classes during the day at Bryan. The purpose of the visit was to ascertain whether or not Bryan U. Credits will be taken on their face value at the U. of T. instead of on probation as at present. Bryan credits are received at full value now provided the individual makes an average of C or over during his first quarter at U. T.

MRS. HURLBURT GREETED AS HOUSE MOTHER

The newest member of the University staff is Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hurlburt, who has taken the position of Matron and Girls' Counsellor at Cedar Hill Dormitory. Her former home is in Norwich, Conn.

Mrs. Hurlburt arrived in Dayton on Saturday, Feb. 24, and was officially presented to the student body the following Monday and spoke a few words of greeting.

Of especial interest is it to know that our new counsellor has long been well known by the leaders in the cause of fundamental Christianity, having been a personal friend of the late Dr. Geo. E. Guille, first president of Bryan University, as well as of Dr. W. L. Pettingill and the late Rev. C. I. Schoolfield. A prized possession is an autographed Bible and photograph given her by Dr. Schoolfield.

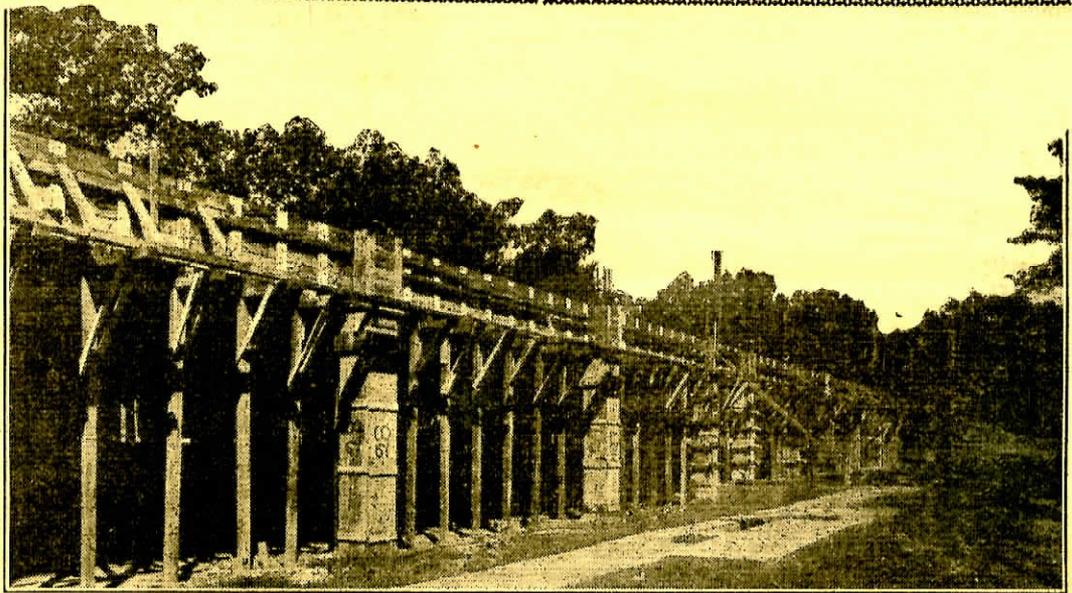

Mrs. Hurlburt is taking over the duties formerly held by Mrs. Rudd who has been ill.

BRO. LEE MANSFIELD, OF WACO, TEXAS, SPEAKS ON PROVERBS

An interesting speaker was Bro. Lee Mansfield, a former pastor in Fort Smith, Ark., and now of Waco, Texas, who visited Bryan on Wednesday morning, Feb. 14.

Taking his text from the 30th chapter of Proverbs, Bro. Mansfield brought the message, using the ant, the rabbit, the locust and the spider—mentioned in that last chapter of Proverbs—as examples which show us the need of laying up for the future, keeping away from all harm, unity, "Keeping-at-it-iveness."

Himself a native Tennessean, Bro. Mansfield has many friends and relatives in this section.

The above picture is a reminder to us, the so-called admirers of William Jennings Bryan, that we have here on a beautiful hill overlooking the scene of our hero's last battle, a monument started in good faith and retarded because of uncontrollable economic depression, a monument, or rather the foundation of a monument that will, unless a national united effort is made to cause its completion, stand through years and possibly centuries to come as an insult to the Commoner and the principles for which he so nobly gave his life.

One dollar each from the mighty army that once stood firmly behind the fallen warrior would complete this memorial which is after all not to be a heap of expressionless stone, but a school, where boys and girls will be given the opportunity to acquire a college education in an institution founded on Faith in God.

GRACE LIVINGSTON HILL ARRIVES MONDAY

Noted Christian Author to Speak At Opening Exercise of Spring Quarter

As the speaker for the opening chapel program in the Spring Quarter, Acting Pres. Rudd has announced that Mrs. Grace Livingston Hill Lutz, well-known Christian writer, will be with us. Mrs. Lutz, better known by her pen-name of Grace Livingston Hill, is to arrive Monday, and will speak in the Rhea High Auditorium Monday afternoon to Bryan and Rhea High students and faculty members.

We have looked forward quite a while to her visit, and feel profoundly the honor of having as a visitor one who has such a Christian influence in the realm of novels—one who touches young people, especially girls of high school age, at the time they have greatest trials in their spiritual and social lives.

SPRING QUARTER BEGINS MONDAY

At Bryan University the Spring Quarter begins Monday morning, March 26, at 8:30 o'clock—the Spring Quarter that our friends and helpers have long anticipated—the Spring Quarter that has held the eyes of the members of the first-year class that pushed off on Faith in the fall of 1930—the Spring Quarter that will climax in the first graduating exercises for the William Jennings Bryan University! Thank the Lord for the prospect.

Diplomas will be presented the evening of June 13.

Final exams for the Winter Term were completed Thursday of this week, in most cases.

Student activities have been in the background during the last two weeks, giving place to the better opportunities of school life.

BRYAN QUARTET ON THE AIR

The mixed quartet of Bryan University, consisting of Zelpha Russell, soprano; Sybil Lusk, alto; Lloyd Fish, tenor, and D. W. Ryther, bass, enjoyed the privilege of singing for the Radio Revival hour of station WDOD in

PROF. RYTHER PLACES NEW DICKENS BOOK, "THE LIFE OF OUR LORD" ON READING LIST

Charles Dickens' unpublished work, "The Life of Our Lord," which, after remaining in manuscript form for 85 years, is to be published for the first time by the Chattanooga News and other newspapers, has been added to the outside reading list in the English 102 course.

In commenting on "The Life of Our Lord," Prof. Ryther, head of the English department of the University, said, "It is interesting to learn what a man of his literary standing thinks of the Bible. It is no less disappointing to find that he believes Jesus to be the son of Joseph, thereby refuting the Virgin birth." Especially is this true in regard to the students here—in a university founded on the fact that the Bible is the inspired Word of God.

In putting "The Life of Our Lord" in the 102 English course, Prof. Ryther puts the book alongside "David Copperfield," "Great Expectations," and "Old Curiosity Shop," all on the list.

By merely keeping a scrap book of the issues, one may have the outstanding book of the decade added to one's library. The first of the fourteen installments appeared in the Chattanooga News on Monday, March 5.

Chattanooga Sunday morning March 4, at 9:00 a. m.

The activities of the quartet as representatives of the University are designed to bring the work and purpose of the University before the many friends and subscribers who are interested in its welfare. It is of interest to note that the last broadcast of the Quartet was heard in Kane, Penn., and by many other friends of the institution.

The Quartet is to have the privilege of singing again in programs on Easter Sunday, and on the first Sundays of May and June, each time at 9:00 a. m.

On Monday, April 2, the Quartet will conduct the chapel program of the Sale Creek High School. On the following Sunday morning they will sing at the Baptist Church, leaving soon after to sing at the Rhea County Singing Convention, at Spring City.

CHICAGO LEADER SPEAKS IN JOINT BRYAN-RHEA HIGH CHAPEL SERVICE

On Thursday morning, Feb. 15, the Rev. Ernest M. Wadsworth, leader of the Great Commission Prayer League, spoke in the Rhea High auditorium to both Rhea High and Bryan Students and faculties.

After reading from his scarlet-covered Bible the passage, 2 Kings 6:1-7, Rev. Wadsworth told the condition of the church in the world today.

He explained that we do not have the supernatural power of God in our churches today because we have departed from the leading of God. "While we are going through the formalities of religion, Christ is grieving."

In lamenting the worldliness of present-day churches, he gave the definition for one such: "A worldly church is one that is made up of people who add church-going to worldly living."

He held out the possibility of a revival today, saying, "A revival begins . . . everywhere . . . with one man—a man who is right with God."

Among several illustrations, Rev. Wadsworth told of how William Jennings Bryan was led to dedicate his latter years to the cause of fundamental Christianity. He made this decision—which he sets out in the Memoirs as the first object of his last years—during an hour of prayer with Rev. J. H. Miller, a Buffalo pastor, some 30 years ago.

QUARTET TO GIVE EASTER CANTATA AT M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH

The Bryan University Quartet, assisted by other members of the student body, will present the cantata, "Bright Easter Morning," on the evening of Sunday, April 1, at the M. E. Church, south.

Those taking part on the program are Miss Zelpha Russell, soprano; Miss Julia Anna Yancey, soprano; Miss Sybil Lusk, alto; Miss Virginia Kahout, alto; Lloyd E. Fish and John Hair, tenors; Prof. D. W. Ryther and John de Rossett, basses, and Mrs. D. E. Swafford, accompanist.

SINCERITY

Sincerity, one of the most enabling traits of the human race, is a badly needed quality on our campus and is a quality that every one can develop.

We can apply it to our associations with each other: if a promise is made, keep it; do not promise something that you cannot give or have no right to promise; treat everyone alike.

Sincerity can gain for a student more respect than any other quality he may possess more than the fact that he is the best athlete, the leader in the class room or campus or society, or anything in which he may be superior to the general run of students.

A student with this characteristic is dependable. Believing an opinion to be right he will hold to it, but receiving enlightenment will alter his opinion, doing nothing merely for the sake of harmonizing with someone else.

On the other hand, lack of sincerity places a student in a bad light before his fellows because he cannot be relied upon. Another qualification will in the ultimate be of little use when confidence has been shaken.

But the student who can consistently day by day prove his truthfulness and open singlemindedness based on his sincerity involuntarily commands the respect of all whom he comes in contact. Such a student is a valuable asset, both to his classmates and to the school.

BOOKS

Books to me are treasures. They are the precious records of the thoughts and deeds of thousands of men and women who have labored, suffered and died that we may have the information contained in them. Every age has brought forth its men and women of genius. But for books we would scarcely know them today. The lessons that they taught would have been lost. The inestimable value of those brilliant minds are ours today through the printed pages of books.

On the shelves of the Bryan University library are over thirty thousand volumes written upon every phase of life. Their actual worth in dollars and cents would run into the thousands of dollars. But their value to the students who will pass through the halls of the University in the future can not be told in money terms. When we think of the privation, sacrifice and intense suffering of some of the world's greatest authors while they were writing, we can begin to count the cost of their works. Then when we raise our heads to observe the needs of this chaotic world we can realize how much we need to know the experiences and lessons of the great thinkers of the past. Bryan University's library offers over thirty thousand opportunities for us to contact the minds of yesterday that we may adequately meet the demands of today. Books are priceless. Read them.

"SHALL HE FIND FAITH?"

Jesus Christ said, "When the son of man cometh, shall He find faith on the earth?" (Luke 18:8) "For that day shall not come except there come a falling away first." (II Thes. 2:3.)

In the Literary Digest of Saturday, March 3, page 20, a report shows that 80 per cent of the pastors of the Chicago churches opposed the teaching of hell "as a place of burning;" over half of the preachers agree that "there is no devil;" even the teaching of Heaven has been discarded by 41 per cent. About two out of five flatly denied the divinity of Christ. This report, as compared with a similar questionnaire sent out in 1929, when five out of seven Chicago preachers stayed firmly on the teaching of the Bible, shows the amazing decrease of spirituality in the last five years.

Getting closer home than that, a Chattanooga pastor writes in The Chattanooga News, "Miracles do not happen; they never did happen." (Open Forum)

Again, the Lord writes through Paul, "Now, the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils," (I Tim. 4:1.)

See II Tim. 3: 1-8, II Peter 2: 1-3; Jude 4, 8, 11-13, 16, I Tim. 4: 1-3. "Behold, He cometh with clouds and every eye shall see Him." (Rev. 1:7).

RESUME

Now that the basketball season has been buried with the past, the question for fireside discussion is: who received the right to basketball letters? Here is the answer. The boys were John Hair, captain, Franklin Bennett, R. T. Maxey, Jr., Ralph Cline and Pete Stegall. The rest of the squad are "Baby Rae" Hodges, Elwood Atkins, W. T. Margrave, Charles Prusack and John de Rosset. Hodges, a letterman from last year, did not get eligible to play till the season was well nigh gone.

The girls receiving the right to letters were Mona Finnell, Madge Smith, Cleneyria Lee, Thelma Lee, Emily McMurry and Marjorie Yancey. Other girls of the basketball urge are Dorothy Hair and Edith Higgins, who did not get eligible in time, Virginia Kohout and Agnes Copeland.

Now that the season is over, something can be said about the various virtues of the two outfits. The boys put up some of the best guarding per man of any team they played this season. Especially in the Hiwassee game here and the Johnson game there did the fellows tie the opposition to relatively low scores. Hair and Bennett led in the scoring. Stegall's floor work was outstanding. Cline had a way of coming through with the goods and making the most of every opening. Hodges was as efficient a guard as forward and made a lasting impression on several of his illustrious opponents. Maxey bore the brunt of the safety work, coming out now and then to fill in at center. Most teams spent the first ten minutes of every game trying to get at the bucket, in fact, J. B. C.'s confident first five did not even put one goal through in that first quarter up there. Considering the class of their opponents, Bryan acquitted herself well, her main trouble being, in the terms of a visiting player, that "she didn't ever know when she was licked." And that is a mighty fine complimentary fault.

The Lionesses conducted themselves well, fighting courageously but lacking the unity found in the Lions. Madge Smith surely looped them in; Cleneyria Lee was especially dextrous with shooting, and Mona Finnell played equally well as their partner or as safety guard. The spirited guarding of little Marjorie Yancey was something to be joyful about. Thelma Lee was one of the most dependable guards, always in there with a consistent game. In other words the little ladies had the same fault that the big brothers had: they didn't know when they were licked.

TEACH ME TO PRAY

Teach me to pray, Lord God in Heaven above;
Teach me to know that in Thy boundless love
Thou seest every sparrow that may fall,
And givest what is best for all.

Altho' my ways are laid in pastures drear;
Tho' burdens seem more than my soul can bear,
That, in Thy love, Thou gavest them to me.
Teach me to put my trust in Thee.

Teach me to pray, to take my woes to Thee,
With faith that Thou will from them set me free.
And give me strength to conquer every day,
Father in heaven, teach me to pray.—Anon.

Like some of us less important individuals, Poet Rudyard Kipling has difficulty in keeping track of his bank balance. Merchants to whom he gives checks for small amounts in payment for purchases do not cash them, but sell them at a nice margin of profit to souvenir hunters who desire to possess his autograph.

An interesting recent demonstration consisted of lighting an electric lamp bulb by passing radio waves through a man's head. Such experiments should aid in determining the relative conductivity of solid ivory and a vacuum.

Knowing that we must eventually shuffle off the mortal coil, most of us hope that we may do it painlessly. So did one H. W. Dyer, of Lewisham, Eng., who padded his neck so that he might hang himself comfortably. But it didn't work, so he is recovering after a mild choking spell.

When a shoplifter in Cincinnati testified that he had stolen a pair of shoes for his mother-in-law, the judge said: "Greater love hath no man. You may go."

BACCALAUREATE SPEAKER

Students and friends of Bryan University will be pleased to learn that Dr. William H. Wrighton, of the University of Georgia, is to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon to the members of the first graduating class of Bryan University.

Dr. Wrighton has received the degrees of B. A. and D. D. from Central University and his M. A. from the University of Georgia.

A man of culture, outstanding in his chosen field, Dr. Wrighton is the type of man whose friendliness has endeared him to all those who know him. Of interest to Bryan students is the fact that he is a personal friend of Dr. Currens and Prof. Ryther.

It is apropos that this feature of the first Commencement should be a sermon by a Georgia man, for the neighboring state has been a factor in the lives of our faculty, two of its members holding degrees from the University of Georgia, and three having been educated in the state.

We shall look forward with pleasure to hearing Dr. Wrighton as he brings a message at this memorable time, beginning Commencement Week for the first graduates of William Jennings Bryan University.

SARA TEASDALE DISCUSSED IN LITERARY SOCIETY

Under the direction of Miss Mary Lois Hodges, the Gamma Omicron Lambda ("Good Old Lions") Literary Society met Monday evening, Feb. 19, to discuss the life and a part of the works of the late poetess, Sara Teasdale.

In giving a talk on her life, Ernest Toliver persisted in calling her "Miss Teaswell," probably because he had for only a few minutes perused some of her love lyrics, later read by Miss Hodges, Miss Laymon and Mr. Bentley. The latter also gave a talk explaining those lyrics.

Prof. Montoya, the faculty advisor, made a short yet helpful talk at the conclusion of the hour.

BRYAN INVITED TO TOUR CHATTANOOGA PARKS

Mr. Campbell, of the Federal Park Service of the Chattanooga Area, was in Dayton recently to extend to all those connected with Bryan University a welcome to inspect Chickamauga and other points of Chattanooga and vicinity.

Mr. Ryther says he hopes that many will soon be able to avail themselves of this free guide service, which was established there only in January.

PRAYER MEETING IN CHAPEL

Setting aside temporarily the custom of having student speakers for the Saturday morning chapel hour, Pres. Rudd took charge last Saturday to bring a message which had long been on his heart; it concerned a better understanding and more love in the institution.

After the talk, over half an hour was spent by students and faculty in praying over the matter together.

FISH PREACHES ON STEWARDSHIP TO STUDENTS

Ralph Cline was in charge of the chapel hour on Saturday, 17. After the invocation by Miss Sybil Lusk and Scripture reading by Mr. Cline, Miss Julia Anna Yancey gave a vocal solo, "He Loveth His Sheep," with Miss Zelpha Russell accompanying.

CLINE IN CHARGE OF CHAPEL

The Rev. B. F. Fox, a student in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, in Louisville, Ky., was a recent week-end guest at Cedar Hill.

After preaching locally three times Sunday, Mr. Fox spoke to the University students and faculty the following morning.

STUDENTS ARE B. Y. P. U. SPEAKERS

On Sunday afternoon, March 18, Terence Bently addressed a sectional B. Y. P. U. meet at the New Union Church on the subject, "Christ Reigning in Our Churches."

On the previous Sunday, Ralph E. Toliver spoke to a similar group meeting at the Spring City Baptist Church on "Christ Reigning in Our Lives."

At both these meetings a good spirit of fellowship and good will was manifested, and it was a pleasure for the Bryan boys to be with the workers.

BRYAN BIRTHDAY PARTY

Bryan students and faculty joined in a dinner party at Cedar Hill Dormitory Wednesday night, Mar. 21. Mrs. Austin and Miss Yancey served as hostesses.

The party, given in honor of William Jennings Bryan, founder of Bryan University, was climaxed by a kitchen shower.

E. H. REID SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

The statement, "The initiation of college freshmen in the United States does not carry out the 'Whatsoever things . . . are just' as told in the Bible," was greeted by a clamor of applause (the Freshmen providing the clamor part) at the chapel hour last Monday morning when E. H. Reid, ministerial student and president of the Freshman class, spoke on Phil. 4:8. "It is like the American Revolution," he continued, "It is taxation without representation."

BRYAN-HIWASSEE

The Bryan Lionesses ended their season Feb. 27, by losing to Hiwassee 21-14. The game was very hotly contested after the first quarter, at the end of which the score was 10-1. The Bryan girls rallied at this point and succeeded in holding off the attack bringing the score up to 12-6 at the half. The Hiwassee girls kept a 6-point lead the whole last half with two exceptions it was cut to a 4-point lead and the final 7-point one.

SUNRISE SERVICE EASTER MORNING ON BRYAN HILL

The Easter sunrise service, attended annually by many Christians of the community, will be on Bryan Hill at 6 o'clock Easter morning.

The program for the occasion, which is in charge of the George E. Guille Ministerial association, has not yet been announced, but arrangements are being carried through to make this an impressive and helpful service.

AMY CARTRIGHT BETTER

Students and friends will be interested to know that Miss Amy Cartright is getting along nicely. Miss Cartright, Bryan U. student, underwent a major operation at Broyles hospital Tuesday.

DO YOU CAST YOUR BREAD UPON THE WATERS?

If you don't you are missing a wonderful opportunity and blessing in serving Him who died for your sins. Why not preach by proxy? Why not always be ready to help anyone at any time? Why not get into the work of prayerful and plentiful distribution of tracts that give the Gospel of our Lord? In this day of false doctrine and apostasy, real Christians should find it a pleasure to witness for the Lord, warning of the wrath to come.

For the benefit of those people who would like to take up this work, Bryan University is glad to present the addresses of several and varied tract publishers which should be a help to the tract distributor.

1. St. Louis Tract Depot, 1427 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo. Well-planned scriptural tracts, with attractive printing. Reasonable.

2. The Oscar C. Rixson Foundation, 75 Maiden Lane, New York City. Fundamental tracts free for careful and prayerful distribution.

3. The Bible Institute Colportage Assn., 826 N. La Salle St., Chicago Avenue Station, Chicago, Ill. Booklets with the Moody backing, usually larger size and paper bound. An excellent series by Dr. George E. Guille is carried here at 15c each.

4. The Cincinnati Messianic Testimony, Dr. W. T. Reid, 109 Malvern Place, Mount Auburn, Cincinnati, Ohio. Among the best on the Second Coming, Jew and Kingdom. Those taken up false millennial doctrines should read his folders; puts out monthly "Fig Leaves," sent to any address for $1.00 per year.

5. First Baptist Church, Broadway and 79th Streets, New York City. Straight Bible Teachings. Bound in stiff paper. Confutes error. Works free for postage.

6. Loizeaux Brothers, Publishers, 19 West 21st Street, New York City. One of the best known publishers of fundamental tracts. These issues are used by Bryan University in the Annual Bible Conference.

7. Silver Publishing Co., 1013 Bessemer Bldg., Pittsburg, Pa. Works of James H. McConkey free for asking. "The Three-Fold Secret of the Holy Spirit" is especially good.

8. Free Tract Society, (Inc.), 746 Crocker St., Los Angeles, Calif. About 500 varieties. Though free, postage appreciated.

9. Rev. John R. Gilpin, First Baptist Church, Russell, Ky. Good tracts against dancing and other evils.

10. Franklin M. Davis, 146 Kathmere Road, Brookline, Delaware Co., Pa. Good quality paper and ink used. Practically all scripture verses.

11. James E. Ely, Garden City, Kans. One of the best for plan of salvation. Gospel of John, with notes, free for asking.

12. The Research Science Bureau, Dr. Harry Rimmer, 5141 Angeles Mesa Drive, Los Angeles, Calif. Considered the best in America for questions arising when science (either true or so-called) touches the Bible. Paper bound books by Rimmer sell at 15c, take up the Creation, Flood, Evolution, Joshua's Long Day, etc.

13. Gospel Folio Press, 817 North Avenue, N. E., Grand Rapids, Mich. Small, short story-tracts at reasonable prices.

14. Rev. David Burris, Oakdale Baptist Church, Oakdale, Tenn. Well known for "The Place Called Hell," and "The Divine Order of the Sexes."

15. American Bible Society, Richmond, Va. Bibles, Testaments and Gospels.

16. The Maranatha Tract Band, 6226 Webster Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Short, scriptural tracts, often in colored ink, at reasonable cost.

17. The Woman's Auxiliary, First Presbyterian Church, Chattanooga, Tenn. Offices in Pound Bldg. East 11th St.

18. Evangelistic Series, Sunday School Board, Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, Tenn. Doctrinal and plan of salvation.

Mrs. Sarah Adams, 81, of Seattle, Wash., is cutting her third set of teeth. She lost her second set twenty years ago.

PRESIDENT RUDD GIVES ENCOURAGING TALK TO UNIVERSITY GROUP

In commenting on the first four years of history for Bryan University, Pres. Judson Rudd affirmed a thought that has been current for some time in the student body when he declared: "If the Lord had turned loose prosperity on us (four years ago), we would have been loose entirely now."

Speaking further along this line during his talk, which was in chapel Monday, he said, "If we had been accredited from the first year on down to now, we would have had a large student body of students who would come here for only a quarter or two. It would have been impossible for the spirit of the institution to be built up—those students would not have been controlled by those who are supposed to control them."

Pres. Rudd told of the support that Bryan is being given all over the United States. One Ohio man, he said, wrote that he had Bryan on his prayer list. Mr. Rudd told of receiving a letter from a New York state pastor, written on stationery that bore this message in the upper left hand corner: "We endorse the work being done by Bryan University in Dayton, Tennessee."

In closing, Pres. Rudd showed the blessing of God in keeping us as we have been. "It wouldn't have done for us to grow too fast."

STUDENTS AT SALE CREEK

On last Sunday evening a number of students were guests of the Sale Creek churches in the union service held at the Presbyterian Church. Heber Brumley, a ministerial student, whose home is in Sale Creek, was in charge of the program, which included vocal numbers by Miss Lois Hodges and Lloyd Fish, Miss Sybil Lusk and Miss Julia Anna Yancey.

The message, "It Is the Lord's Passover," was brought by Ralph Toliver, using the 12th chapter of Exodus.

REV. CARROLL SPEAKS

The Rev. Will Carroll, pastor of the Fort Saunders Baptist Church, Knoxville, and now holding an evangelistic meeting at the Baptist Church here, was the visiting speaker Monday morning, speaking on "Success."

"Success is to be measured by our faith in our Lord and the things we give—not the things we get," advised Mr. Carroll. In closing, he cautioned his listeners. "The most useless man in the world today is that individual who lives for self alone . . . Live to Give."

LUNCHEON

Mrs. Russell Austin entertained with a luncheon Tuesday, honoring Dr. Thompson and Dean Hamer, of the University of Tennessee. Covers were laid for Dr. Thompson, Dean Hamer, Prof. Rudd, Prof. Ryther, Prof. McMurry and Dr. Austin.

Misses Bernice Knight and Marion Woolen and Jas. Moring were dinner guests at Cedar Hill. Rev. W. A. Carrol and Rev. Crawford were recent dinner guests at Cedar Hill.

When Harry Boyd, CWA worker in Iola, Kans., dug up an 1863 penny made of a copper and nickel alloy he turned down an offer of $15 for it. Later he consulted a collector's catalog and found it valued at two cents.

When David Gedney, weighing 125 pounds, of White Plains, N. Y., did not dance with his wife, who weighs 235 pounds, she went to the courts for a divorce, charging cruel and inhuman treatment.

Mrs. Emma Deets, of Sterling, Ill., deliberately walked in front of a switch engine and was instantly killed.

BOOKS BY JAMES E. ELY ARE DISTRIBUTED TO STUDENTS AND FACULTY

A large case of the works of James E. Ely, of Garden City, Kansas, arrived Saturday and were given out to those who wanted copies on Monday. There were about one hundred copies of "Glimpses of Bible Climaxes," many of the "It Is Finished" gospels of John, and a variety of Mr. Ely's tracts.

"HERE COMES THREE KNIGHTS," MARCH 30

The rollicking farce, "Here Comes Three Knights," a comedy directed by Miss Julia Anna Yancey, is to be presented by the Junior Class on Friday evening, March 30.

The cast includes Misses Thelma Lee, Ruby Brimer, Mary Lois Hodges, Naomi Jewell, Virginia Kahout, Georgia Jewell, Messrs. Ernest Toliver, John deRossett, John Hair and W. L. Colvin.

Practice is now well underway and the prospects are for a fine evening of entertainment.

BENNETT PREACHES ON "EXAMINATION OF LIFE"

At a recent chapel program Franklin Bennett spoke on "The Examination of Life," bringing before the assembly the only criterion, the Lord Jesus Christ, of whom he said, "He is the truth about life; He is life itself."

LOCAL PASTOR SPEAKS

The Rev. E. M. Boyd, pastor of the M. E. Church here, was a recent visitor at Bryan, speaking in a chapel service.

NEW ALGEBRA SECTION

Prof. McMurry has taken in hand the curing of several "lame ducks" of the algebra students. Shameless as those students (some ten of them) are, they do not blush to carry a "Milne High School's" around under their arms.

NO PARKING SIGN UP

A new ruling has been made by the faculty to prevent any co-ed of the institution from sitting in a parked car on any of the University grounds unless accompanied by a member of the faculty or staff of the school.

This ruling has been received in good will, and the students believe that it will work out for the best.

SCHUBERT DISCUSSED

Under the direction of Miss Virginia Kahout, group leader, the Gamma Omicron Lambda Literary Society gave the weekly program over to a discussion of the life and works of the composer Schubert.

Those taking part on the program were the Misses Kahout, Ruth Toliver, Helen Limburg, Messrs. John deRossett, Lloyd Fish and James Moring.

UNION YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING AT M. E. CHURCH IS SUCCESS

Under the direction of the Chairman, Miss Marion Woolen, the first union meeting of all the young people's societies of the community met at the M. E. Church Sunday evening, Feb. 25. Despite the storm which had continued all day, the house was packed, and a most enjoyable fellowship pervaded the meeting.

King Gustav, of Sweden, is a good sport. Among the many letters received on his 75th birthday was one which read: "Darling, can you meet me this evening at our usual rendezvous?" Glancing at the envelope he saw that the letter was not intended for him, but for a sailor on the warship Gustav V. He wired the captain to grant the sailor leave for the evening.

IN LAST CHAPTERS OF REVELATION

Under the teaching of Dr. Currens, the Thursday and Friday morning studies in Revelation are drawing to a close, next week's studies being in the 21st chapter.

The students appreciate the unfolding of prophecy by Dr. Currens and are sorry to see the studies end. This series, which started in the early fall, has attracted several visitors from time to time.

MODERN EDUCATION

In a series of articles Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, discussed some of the laws he believes underlie a thoroughly modern education. Although coming from a Modernist, they are worthy of serious consideration.

Among the principles he set forth are these: We learn by action rather than by absorption; learning is specific rather than general; the best things to study are those which are important to our life and work; we should study the things that will most directly contribute to our efficiency and happiness.

Like many other progressive educators of the present day, Dr. Frank does not believe that a college education is either necessary or desirable for everyone. The four years spent in college might often be better employed in gaining practical experience in a work shop or in business. It depends largely on the natural talents and inclinations of a young person whether he should go to college.

For one who has a studious disposition and aspires to enter one of the learned professions, a college education is indispensable, of course. For those who go to college merely to be able to say that they have gone to college it is a waste of valuable time.

As Dr. Frank very truthfully says: "We cannot prove that college education guarantees a big income, or that it makes us happier men or women. Most of the old arguments for college education are in the ashcan."

MAN'S FIVE SERVANTS

When one has a cold nothing seems to taste right. The wife may have done her best with the apple pie, the mashed potatoes may be as fluffy and smooth as your desire, but it's a task to down it.

There's a simple reason for it. A cold obstructs what scientists call the olfactory epithelium, located in a little niche in the skull just above and behind the nostrils. It's your smeller.

The senses of taste and smell are so closely linked it is almost impossible to say, sometimes which is which. Sugar and salt are exceptions. We cannot detect them by smelling as a rule.

Take your nose out for a walk some day. As you pass the grocery store, the meat market, the hotel, the bakery and the book store, note how your memory and your sight are helped out by the sense of smell. Each place of business has its distinctive odor. Every human has five wonderful servants. They are sight, hearing, touch, taste and smell. Learn to use them all with intelligence.
